This week was CT (culminating task) week and the students completed their final projects for the term. In speaking, they had to speak about a vocabulary word for one minute (randomly chosen from a bucket) in front of the class. In reading and writing, the students read about a given power structure. They had to write a paragraph, using the OREO structure, to give their opinion on whether they thought the power structure in the reading was fair or unfair. Next Week This week is exam week. There will be a brief review for the exam, and any unfinished work must be submitted.
